In linguistics, a compound verb or complex predicate is a multi-word compound that functions as a single verb. One component of the compound is a light verb or vector, which carries any inflections, indicating tense, mood, or aspect, but provides only fine shades of meaning. The other, “primary”, component is a verb or noun which carries most of the semantics of the compound, and determines its ...

Rated 4 out of 5 by Rob S from Complete Compound I bought this product with the orbital sander to hopefully remove some water spots on a '70's car. I had tried multiple products to remove the spots by hand with no success. The Complete Compound with orbital sander removed about 75-80% of the spots and this was after applying about 8-10 times with 20-25% of the spots remaining.
