Optimal maternal, infant and young child feeding and caring practices reduce underweight and stunting and set the foundations for appropriate growth. The survival of wasted children, however, depends on timely detection and management of moderate and severe malnutrition.

This article describes the form of brief therapy developed at the Brief Family Therapy Center. We have chosen a title similar to Weakland, Fisch, Watzlawick, and Bodin's classic paper, "Brief Therapy: Focused Problem Resolution" to emphasize our view that there is a conceptual relationship and a developmental connection between the points of view expressed in the two papers.
